

SATP U.S. History Review

Very Significant Websites:

<http://www.mde.k12.ms.us/acad/osa/satpprac.html> - Go to this site, scroll down, and toward the bottom you will see U.S. History from 1877. Underneath are links to three actual state tests and their answer keys. This is very, very helpful for testing yourself.

<http://www.usatestprep.com/front/index.php> - Go to the site, click on member login at the top right of page. Next page you will click on tab that reads "SATP Tests" & click on U.S. History Chronological. You can do any activity on any "strand". (WWI or WWII for example) They have games, practices quizzes, tests, word finds, crosswords, puzzles, etc... This site is also helpful if you will use it.

<http://www.wikipedia.org> - This site is a free online encyclopedia. Simply type in any topic we have discussed and it will bring up and categorize all the information connected to the topic you typed in to search.

Topics & Terms:

Below I have divided most of the material throughout the year into categories...Please understand that I don't make the test, so I don't know what exactly is on it. However, I have seen the tests over years past, so I have tried to narrow down what I have seen the most. Remember...it's not good enough to know what a term is. You need to know the significance of each and how it relates or is linked to other topics throughout history.
